

SETTLED THAT PROF. TAYLOR WILL RETIRE FROM THE PRESIDENCY

Of Kentucky Wesleyan College—Committee from Winchester has Conference With Board of Education—Terms Could Not be Made.

The resignation of President Taylor, of the Kentucky Wesleyan College will go into effect at the close of the present school year. The matter was settled definitely Tuesday.

President Taylor has done a good work for the college.

Meeting at Lexington.

A meeting of the Board of Education was held at Lexington Tuesday. The following members were present: Rev. J. R. Deering, of Lexington; Rev. E. G. B. Mann, of Lexington; Hon. D. L. Thornton, of Versailles; Rev. J. R. Savage, of Covington; Rev. J. L. Clark, Fort Thomas; Mr. J. B. Durham, Danville; Hon. Timothy Needham, Williamstown; Rev. J. P. Strother, Danville.

There appeared before the Board representing Winchester: Rev. William Cumming, Messrs. R. R. Perry, J. Edward Grubbs and M. T. McEl-downey.

Holds a Conference.

After a conference and the expression of good will on the part of all concerned, the Board agreed to fix the salary of the President the same as last year—$2,250 cash and $250 conditional.

President Taylor over the phone agreed to accept $2,400 and $100 conditional. The Board declined to accept the terms and the matter is closed.

FORMER WINCHESTER BOYS BADLY BEATEN

By Mob of Fifty Who Object to Their Calling on Some Young Ladies.

A dispatch from Mt. Vernon, Ky., dated the 30th says:

"Charles Parsons, Frank Parsons, R. R. Parsons and C. C. Montgomery, mechanics, engaged on the Cox building, were attacked by a mob of 50 men and boys at Livingston, 10 miles east of Mt. Vernon late yesterday afternoon. The young men had been to Livingston calling on some young ladies and there was objection to their attentions. The four men were at the station preparing to leave for Mt. Vernon when the mob arrived and, with rocks and clubs, began to beat them. Nearly 50 shots were also fired.

Robert Parsons was severely beaten, and is in a dangerous condition. His comrades were also beaten in a terrible manner. The four men made their escape into the hills hotly pursued, and, completely exhausted, arrived in Mt. Vernon this morning. Robert Parsons had to be carried, which made the journey all the more difficult for his three companions.

Casper and Hilton Adams, of Livingston, who introduced the strangers to the young ladies, have been threatened, it is alleged, and are barricaded in their home. Excitement is running high, and further trouble is feared."

The Carson boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Parsons who formerly lived here.

INFORMATION ABOUT SITE

Of New Postoffice and Proposals For Survey Sought By Department.

R. R. Perry, custodian of the post-office site, has received the following letter from the U. S. Treasury department. A copy of the specifications can be seen at the postoffice.

R. R. Perry, Custodian of Site, Post-office building, Winchester, Ky.: Sir:—You are requested to aid this office by securing from the City Engineer and from persons in your city equally technically qualified, proposals for furnishing a survey and certain data or information in relation to the land secured as a site for the proposed public building in your city, in accordance with the specifications herewith enclosed.

Respectfully,

J. K. TAYLOR,
Supervising Architect.

EBENEZER PRESBYTERY

To Meet at Washington Street Presbyterian Church Tuesday, April Third.

It was stated in Tuesday's News that the Ebenezer Presbytery of the Northern Presbyterian Church U. S. A. would convene with the Washington Street Presbyterian church Thursday.

This was an error as the Presbytery will not meet until Tuesday, April 13th. About 100 delegates are expected at this convention. The program will be published later in the News.

CONFERS THE FIRST DEGREE ON MR. CORNELL

Masons Meet For the First Time in New Fraternity Building.

The Masons met in the new fraternity building Tuesday night and conferred the first degree on Mr. F. G. Cornell. This is the first meeting held in the new building and as the lodge room on the third floor has not been completed the meeting was held on the fourth floor.

GRANDPA POYNTER NOW.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Poynter, Tuesday night, an eleven-pound boy.

MME. HELENA MODJESKA, FAMOUS ACTRESS, WHO IS ILL IN CALIFORNIA.

Mme. Helena Modjeska, who is ill at her home in Newport, Cal., was one of the best known and most popular actresses on the stage twenty years ago. She was born near Cracow, Poland, in 1844 and was married to Count Chlapowski in 1868. She made her first appearance on the stage in 1861 and, coming to this country in the early seventies, created a great furore by her work in various Shakespearean roles.

TO BE PLACED ON THE MARKET

Subdivision to be Known as "College Addition" is to be Divided Into Lots and Sold.

One of the most important real estate deals recently conducted in local suburban property was the purchase last week from Dr. G. O. Graves of his well-known fourteen acre tract, lying in the western part of the city in close proximity to the Wesleyan College grounds. The purchase was made by Mr. A. T. Byrd, of the local firm of Byrd & Davis, attorneys, and the Bowman Realty Company, the widely known real estate developers of Huntington, W. Va.

The price paid has not been freely announced, but it is understood a good round sum was paid Dr. Graves for this property for it has long been recognized as an exceedingly valuable tract, especially adapted for residential purposes.

Been in the Business.

The Bowman Realty Company are well known real estate men in their section, having for years been in the business of purchasing and developing real estate additions in growing towns. They have an excellent reputation as to financial standing and business methods and it is fortunate that this property has fallen into competent hands for its development. The property will be immediately subdivided into lots, and a considerable sum of money will be spent in installing sidewalks and other improvements before lots are offered for market.

College Addition.

The subdivision will be known as "College Addition" to Winchester, owing to its nearness to the college property, and the name is a very appropriate designation.

The handsome residence of Mr. Byrd adjoins the tract to be developed, and Mr. Byrd is greatly interested in securing a good class of improvements and desirable neighbors upon the plan of lots. That an experienced real estate concern should select Winchester as a point for investment is another evidence of the steady and substantial growth of our city, and the favorable opinion people elsewhere have as to its future development and commercial importance.

GOES TO BEATTYVILLE.

Mr. B. R. Jonett left Wednesday morning for Beattyville to attend to a court case pending there.

CRAZY SNAKE HARD TO FIND

Militiamen Search in Vain For Rebellious Indian—Scour Oklahoma Hills.

Hickory Stamping Grounds, Okla., March 31.—Crazy Snake, leader of the uprising of his clan of negroes, half-breeds and Indians of the Creek nation, is reported still at large, although it is believed that his capture can not be delayed much longer.

He is likened by those who know him to Sitting Bull in point of intelligence and determination, and upon his death or apprehension the outcome of the present disturbances rests. One hundred men of the First regiment, Oklahoma National Guard, are scouring the hills and river bottoms for scores of miles in every direction.

Colonel Roy Hoffman, who is in command of the troops here, set out in heavy marching order, each man carrying 24 hours' rations and 40 rounds of new Springfield ammunition. During the day five prisoners were brought back to the base here, but none seemed of importance. Up to date over 40 captives have been taken and placed in jail. Many of them, coming from a distance to attend a powwow called by Crazy Snake to hear his report on his mission to Washington during the winter, did not know there had been an uprising. A trace of wonderment was to be seen on their stolid faces when the news was given them. They were placed under restraint, however, for fear that they might be just as willing to fight as to listen to the harangue they had come to hear.

There seems to be no reason to believe that there will be a general counter with the fugitives. Ambuscades in some form, however, are not impossible, although Major Barrett and other officers left in charge at Camp Hickory, as this hamlet of tents has been named, predict that there will be little shooting from this time on.

Will Not Interfere.

Washington, March 31.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger announced that he will see no reason for federal intervention in the Indian troubles, and that the state authorities would be able to handle the affair without government interference.

KEEPS EYE ON CASTRO

Uncle Sam Is Big Factor In Preserving Venezuelan Peace.

Washington, March 31.—The United States government is watching very closely every move of former President Castro of Venezuela. That the United States can make itself a factor in preserving the peace of Venezuela is generally believed here. England, the Netherlands, Germany and France are naturally looked upon as likely to be in sympathy with any proper action that the United States may take to prevent a movement in the interests of Castro. Every effort will be made to prevent any expedition from the United States to furnish Castro's followers with arms and ammunition.

Taft and the Judgeships.

Washington, March 30.—President Taft again stated to callers that he did not consider the appointment of judges to be a part of the patronage of United States senators. The president thinks that judicial appointments should be free from political influences. He considers himself competent to pass upon the fitness of them for the bench and will do so. At the same time he said he would be glad to receive suggestions from senators and representatives as to their knowledge of the qualifications of applicants.

Political Gossips Busy.

Columbus, O., March 31.—While Governor Harmon continues noncommittal as to the appointment of a new penitentiary warden, political gossips figure that the plum will fall to either R. W. Butler of Cleveland or Tim Jones of Ironton, with chances slightly favoring the former owing to his prior reform record.

Anti-Saloon League Encouraged.

Columbus, O., March 31.—It was announced at Anti-Saloon league state headquarters here that, following the successful outcome of the contest in Clark county, the anti-liquor campaign would be carried next into Ross and Mahoning counties. Montgomery and Crawford counties are likely to have option elections soon.

Woman Suffrage in Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., March 31.—The woman suffrage bill passed the senate with a referendum attached to it. If the bill is ratified by a vote of the people, then women suffrage would become operative. The measure now goes to the assembly.

NEW MOTOR FIRE WAGON IS NOW THE CENTER OF ATTRACTION

Will Probably be Loaded to Its Capacity Wednesday and Given a Thorough Try-Out.

The fire department is now the center of attraction since the new motor hose wagon has arrived. This is the first motor hose wagon in the State and has attracted wide attention not only in this city, but departments in the State are watching it closely, and if it proves a success, they will adopt them.

It now seems that it will only be a short time before the horses which have so faithfully carried out the purposes of a fire department will be displaced and motor wagons installed in their stead.

As the wagon arrived yesterday and it was late when they got it off the train nothing in the way of a test has been made. Wednesday the wagon will probably be loaded with hose to its capacity, which is 1,000 feet, and the chemical tank charged and then given a good trial.

Winchester is always ahead in progress and much credit should be given the city fathers for this advance step and in their giving the property owners of the city better fire protection.

GETTING READY TO MAKE BID

Expert Is Here Looking Over Vault in the County Clerk's Office.

Mr. E. C. Roberts, of Cincinnati, representing a vault firm in New York, was in the city Wednesday to take measurements and look at the vaults in the County Clerk's office, with a view of drawing plans and specifications and making a bid for the new vaults to be put in that office.

The County Judge was ordered at the last meeting of the Fiscal Court to get plans and specifications for this work, which is badly needed, as the records of all deeds, mortgages and other valuable papers pertaining to the county's affairs are kept and the ones now in use have been thought unsafe for a number of years.

Judge Evans will get bids from other concerns before the contract is let, and just how soon before the work will commence cannot be told.

MRS. C. H. REES IS REPORTED BETTER

She is Still Very Nervous, But Rested Much Easier Tuesday Night.

It was reported from the residence of Dr. C. H. Rees Wednesday morning that Mrs. Rees, who was burned by the explosion of gasoline Monday, is very much improved. The first night after the accident she was unable to sleep at all, but last night it is reported that she spent a very good night. Mrs. Rees is still very nervous and the family have been unable to talk to her and learn all the particulars of the accident so far.

IMPERSONATOR IS TO BE AT OPERA HOUSE

Wednesday Night Under Auspices of Ladies of the First Christian Church.

Gilbert AtLee Eldridge, the impersonator, will appear at the opera house Wednesday night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Christian Church. Fourteen different characters will be represented.

TARIFF DEBATE BECOMES WARM

Oil and Lumber Schedules Are Under Discussion—Ohioan Among Speakers.

Washington, March 31.—When the session of the house got well under way the tariff debate waxed warm. The indications were when the body met that the proceedings would be dry and uninteresting, but a revival of the discussion of the oil and lumber schedules was like setting a match to both products, for the subjects proved of absorbing interest to the members, who entered generally into the debate.

To Mr. Vreeland of New York was accorded the privilege of explaining the position of the independent refiners, who want the countervailing duty on crude petroleum retained, while Mr. Kitchin of North Carolina, in an exhaustive treatment of the question, pleaded for the placing of lumber on the free list. He got into frequent colloquies during his three and a half hours' talk with both Republicans and Democrats.

Others who spoke were Messrs. Cox (O.), Sterling (Ill.), Hughes (Ga.), Bates (Pa.), Parker (N. J.) and Richardson (Ala.).

In his remarks Mr. Cox (O.) pleaded for a reduction of duties on sewing machines, bicycles and computing scales. He argued that by reason of the favored nation clause Germany was enabled to manufacture and ship sewing machines and bicycles into Russia, France and other continental countries at about half the tariff imposed on the same articles of American manufacture. Because of this fact the American manufacturer was handicapped in extending his foreign trade. Unless the tariff was reduced, he said, the manufacturers of the products mentioned would be forced to build factories abroad, which would result in throwing out of employment in this country many skilled workmen.

Referring to various witnesses before the ways and means committee, Mr. Cox said: "A prohibition tariff inspires such a lust for gain and gold that these men come here and swear their souls down to the gates of hell in order to get the government license to rob the people."

MAY DELAY TARIFF BILL

House Leaders Have Trouble In Keeping Members In Line.

Washington, March 31.—There is imminent danger that the Payne tariff bill may be seriously delayed in its consideration by the house. President Taft was in conference with Speaker Cannon, Representative Payne, the floor leader, and Representative Dillard. It is understood that the house leaders impressed the chief executive with the difficulty being experienced in getting Republican members in line to vote for a rule which would expedite the passage of the measure. It is conceded by several Republican leaders that it would be impossible to pass a rule restricting amendments to the bill until some time next week, and then only by grafting the demands made by a number of members that certain important schedules be open to amendment.

Those members who oppose the holding of a caucus do so on the ground that it would attract the attention of the country to the fact that the members of the majority in the house are at odds regarding the bill. As a means of settling the differences that exist and securing general support to a rule which would restrict amendments entirely to those which the ways and means committee will offer, they propose that the committee should recommend changes that would take the countervailing duty clause on coffee out of the bill and strike out the tariff on tea.

GOES TO PENNSYLVANIA.

Mr. Ira G. Turner left this morning for Pottsville and other points in Pennsylvania in the interest of the Hagan Gas Engine Company.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

Elder J. W. Harding will preach at the Church of Christ, Fairfax street, Sunday morning and evening.

SAVE SOME OF THE MONEY THAT YOU "SAVE"

If you could place in a special purse, or deposit in a special fund, all of the moneys saved in the course of a year because of your reading and answering ads., you'd be surprised at the sum total. The pennies and dimes on groceries, table supplies; the dollars saved on clothes, furniture, furnishings, objects of art, china, silverware—all, in a year's course, would amount to a tidy sum, indeed.

Why don't you try the experiment—for a few weeks—of ACTUALLY SETTING ASIDE the amounts saved in your purchases on account of your study of the ads? Then invest in something you have long needed—and say: "Here is something I've bought with money ACTUALLY, not theoretically, SAVED!" You will find that all of this advice we have been giving you about reading and answering ads. has been sound, business-like advice. And you will let the ads. take a real part in your buying and your selling hereafter—which will be a fortunate circumstance for you, and for the town in which you live.

THE AUTOMOBILE HOSE WAGON.

The new automobile hose wagon has arrived and is now being tried out. If the thirty days' trial prove successful, it is our understanding that the city will keep the machine.

If the Council decides that it is satisfactory, then will come the question of the old wagon. We believe that it should be placed in the North end of town.

All our big manufacturing interests are in the North end and our gravest danger of a big fire comes from that vicinity. It is entitled to the best protection the Council can afford.

STATE WIDE PROHIBITION.

Several have said to us that the newspapers opposed to prohibition are simply adding fuel to the flame in articles against it, that they are stirring up the sentiment of even the moderate drinker against the saloon. And this is the way it strikes us. We are not now in favor of State-wide prohibition; but we must confess that the long editorials and news articles in the Courier-Journal gets our back up.

There is so little excuse for the course of the saloon in recent years. In nearly every city of the country the saloon keepers have mixed in political affairs and always for the worse.

The present movement in favor of State-wide prohibition throughout the South has not been successful in so many States because of the votes of actual prohibition. The moderate drinker has joined with them because of his belief that honest government made necessary the putting the saloon out of business. The day of reckoning seems to be at hand and no promise of being good will go.

It is our opinion that the bitter fight against the county unit law made by the liquor interests has hastened the day of the submission of the State-wide question.

YOUR AD. SHOULD TALK FOR YOU WHEN THE MAN WITH SOME MONEY IS LOOKING FOR A BARGAIN.

"BUSINESS EDUCATION."

Henceforth, the idea that a boy has been "educated for business" when he has devoted no time or attention whatever to advertising, will take its place among current absurdities. For advertising permeates all business, nowadays—is the impelling force that makes business "go."

Every person—young or old—should "know things" about advertising; should know how to use it, as a force in bringing things about, in making tasks easier, guests surer of reward. This knowledge is education—"education for business," and for living, under modern conditions. The schools do not teach it—not generally. But the big school teaches it—the big school of daily life and struggle; and, early in life, every person should begin to acquire a knowledge of it. Even if, at first, your experience is confined to answering an ad., it will be valuable. You will learn the meaning of bargaining and bartering—you will learn something of human nature—something of values—something of the value of promptness in going after what you want—something of the "short cuts" to results which (for example) the classified ads. furnish.

Your "business education" in advertising should begin early, for the reason that it will never be entirely finished. You will keep on learning, year after year. And you will find that in whatever you undertake in a business way, your knowledge of advertising will be your reliance-in-chief. It will make things easier—plans will become feasible—hopes will change to plans (and that will be a worth-while time.)

MONEY IN MULES.

Average Three-year-olds Bring $200 Each—Larger Animals Twice as Much.

Raising mules for the market is an industry which for some reason is almost entirely neglected in the Eastern and Middle States, yet there is no safer, surer method of making money, especially for the small farmer.

The notion that one needs boundless acres of a ranch covering half a county to raise mules successfully has been threshed out and exploded long ago. There are no extensive mule-breeding plants in Missouri, yet this State raises the largest and finest mules in the whole world.

A farmer with a hundred acres could raise a couple of mules every year. When 3 years old, if a fair size, they will bring him $200 each. If extra large and well shaped they will bring almost as much more. There is always a demand and a ready market for any mule, and the bigger the mule the bigger the price.

One man with a farm of 200 acres keeps one driving horse and ten mares. Each one of these mares raises a mule colt every year besides doing all the farm work; and on this particular farm there is plenty for them to do.

The colts are allowed to run with the mares until 4 months old. They are then placed in a pasture by themselves and are never allowed to stop growing until they have attained their full growth. From the time they leave the mare until they are shipped to the market they are never fed hay or oats. Sowed corn, bean fodder, cornstalks and straw in winter and grass in summer is their diet.

"My experience," writes this farmer in Country Life in America, "has taught me that mules thrive best on coarse food—not fence rails and the windy end of a barn, but any other food than hay or oats. My rations for sixty mules engaged in heavy railroad construction work are six quarts of corn a day for each, and one bundle of rye straw for two mules at night.

"It would be hard to find a smoother, slicker bunch anywhere, and they have not lost a week's work in five years. They are groomed and carried every night, the same as any valuable working horse, and the drivers are never allowed to whip; any abuse or overloading results in the quick discharge of the driver, for a mule is of all working animals the most timid and shy. They will go any place and do anything if they know it is all right, and if they do not know it will not do it."

Money and Its Crawlbacks.

Some people are left money just in the nick of time, and make good use of it; it is ruinous to others to receive money that they have never earned. A good many people would never do any work at all if it wasn't for the fact that they had to, and so a wise Providence decrees that money shall not come their way except by the sweat of their brow.—The Captain.

One Worthy Remembrance.

The brightest spot in a long and intimate experience with the telephone is that once some one called up the wrong number and got us by mistake and didn't blame us for it.—Ohio State Journal.

Caught Live Fox with Coat.

Catching a fox alive with an overcoat is a feat performed by David C. Ward, a member of the Fox Hunt club of Winston Salem, N. C. After a long and exciting chase Mr. C. Ward with six hounds had tired Reynard out, and in doubling the fox came so near Mr. C. Ward that he threw his long overcoat over the animal and succeeded in capturing it just before the dogs arrived.—Fur News.

A Prayer.

Teach us to know the healing influence of beauty, and so to realize the insidious evil of all that mars the landscape; comprehending, too, that ugliness, wherever found, is opposed to the harmonious development of man's thought and to the design of Thy creation.—Edward Irving Farrington.

Patience Unconquerable.

He that has patience may compass anything.—Rabelais.

STORY IS DENIED

No Attempt Was Made on Life of Former President Roosevelt.

Punta Del Gada, Island of Sao Miguel, The Azores, March 31.—The steamship Hamburg, with ex-President Theodore Roosevelt aboard, arrived here unexpectedly. The vessel stopped briefly to give Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity of seeing the beautiful scenery of the island, with its springs and gardens. There was great excitement among the people, all of whom were eager to obtain a glimpse of Mr. Roosevelt. While the Hamburg was at Horta a false rumor to the effect that a steamer passenger had attempted to assault Mr. Roosevelt was circulated.

Mr. Roosevelt came ashore. A large crowd assembled at the dock and gave him an ovation. He was greeted by Edward A. Creevey and William W. Nicholls, respectively the American consul and vice consul at San Michael, with whom he drove around Punta Del Gada in an automobile. On this trip Mr. Roosevelt was accompanied by the members of his party.

Investigate Ohio Railroads.

Columbus, O., March 31.—In order to ascertain the relations existing between Ohio coal-carrying railroads and the companies operating the mines, Interstate Commerce Commissioner E. E. Clark is conducting an investigation. More than 100 witnesses have been subpoenaed from all over the state.

DAWSON DISCOVERS REVENUE "JOKER"

Says Tobacco Consumers Have Been Cheated.

Washington, March 31.—What is designated as a "joker," that cost the consumers of tobacco in this country nearly $45,000,000, was found in the existing revenue laws of the United States by Representative Dawson of Iowa, who at once introduced a bill to correct the error.

Under the Dingley tariff law the two-ounce packages of tobacco, sold to the consumer at 5 cents each and the four-ounce packages for 10 cents. In 1898 a war revenue tax of 6 cents a pound additional was levied on tobacco. At the same time, in order to serve the convenience of the trade, authorization was given for the reduction of the sizes of packages from two, three and four ounces to one and one-third ounces, thus enabling the smoker to procure a 5-cent and a 10-cent package of tobacco "at the store."

In due time the war revenue tax was repealed. Somebody forgot, Mr. Dawson believes, to restore the packages of tobacco to the original sizes, and hence, ever since 1902, the consumer of tobacco has been paying the equivalent of the war revenue tax to the manufacturers of tobacco.

Negro Minister Arrested.

Ashtabula, O., March 31.—The Rev. R. Wallace Christian, a negro Methodist minister who came to this city a few months ago from Sharon, Pa., and established a mission among the people of his race, was arrested for embezzlement, the complaining witness being Mrs. Oliver W. Henson, who participated actively in the church organization. It is alleged that Christian failed to account for money collected at dinners given for the benefit of the mission. He was released on $500 bond.

ROOT BOOMS ELIOT

New York Senator Wants Harvard President Sent to England.

Washington, March 31.—Senator Root of New York, speaking at a dinner tendered to President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard university, at which President Taft was also a guest, indicated the choice of Dr. Eliot as the new American ambassador to Great Britain.

Mr. Root declared that "before whatever monarch he (Eliot) shall stand, we will know our great republic in all its good qualities is represented by a true American gentleman."

Colored Students Lose Out.

Lansing, Mich. March 31.—Two colored students who were dismissed from Grand Rapids, Mich., veterinary college some time ago following the objection of white students to their presence, were denied a writ of mandamus by the supreme court to compel the college to let them pursue their studies.

Three Hoosier Counties Go Dry.

Indianapolis, March 31.—Three Indiana counties, Bartholomew, Vermilion and Jennings, voted dry in county option elections, making the total of counties from which the saloons have been ousted under the option law 41.

Reopening of Feud Feared.

Jackson, Ky. March 31.—A reopening of the feud between the McIntosh and Little families is feared as a result of the killing of Albert McIntosh here by John Little. McIntosh was shot five times and instantly killed.

New Bridge Is Opened.

New York, March 31.—The new $15,000,000 Queensboro bridge, connecting New York and Long Island City, was informally opened to pedestrians and vehicles.

SCANDAL UNEARTHED

Two Inmates of Girls' Home at Delaware Said to Have Been Betrayed.

Columbus, O., March 31.—The fact that two inmates of the Girls' Industrial school, near Delaware, were brought to this city and placed in the Crittenton home, was brought to Governor Harmon's attention by Probate Judge Black. The girls are each 19 years of age, one being sent to the industrial home from Darke county and the other from Athens county.

According to the information furnished the governor these two young women could no longer be kept among the other pupils of the school, because of the special medical attention soon to be necessary in their cases. According to the statements of the two unfortunate pupils, in one case the man involved is employed in the school in a minor capacity, while in the other case a visitor to the institution from Troy is mentioned.

Governor Harmon will order a thorough investigation of the affair.

Catholic Church For Negroes.

Cincinnati, O., March 31.—Through the generosity of Mrs. Franklin Drexel of Philadelphia a combined Catholic church and parochial school for negro Catholics of Cincinnati will be erected. Mrs. Drexel purchased the site and will erect the building, which will cost about $25,000. There are 500 negro Catholics in Cincinnati who will benefit by Mrs. Drexel's munificence.

SERBIA FORMALLY ACCEPTS FORMULA

Will Not Protest Annexation of Her Territory by Austria.

Belgrade, March 31.—The formula agreed upon by the powers of Europe and Austria-Hungary for the settlement of the dispute between the dual monarchy and Serbia was accepted by the Serbian government. The formula was presented at the foreign office by the British, French, German, Russian and Italian ministers, and Serbia, through her minister at Vienna, delivered to the Austrian government today a note to the following effect:

"First, Serbia declares that her rights have not been violated by the annexation by Austria-Hungary of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and accepts the powers' decision to annul paragraph 25 of the treaty of Berlin; second, Serbia will not protest against the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina; third, Serbia will maintain peaceful relations with Austria-Hungary; fourth, Serbia will return her military forces to normal conditions by discharging the reservists and volunteers, and she will not permit the formation of irregular troops or bands."

Oil Fever Strikes Belmont.

Martins Ferry, O., March 31.—The leasing of 5,900 acres of land in this vicinity, about 1,500 acres of which is within or borders upon the corporation, and the promise that a number of test wells will be drilled for oil in the near future, has gotten the town in a fever of excitement.

FLEECE BY WOMAN

Aged Man From Illinois Proves to Be Real "Sucker."

South Bend, Ind., March 31.—William J. Lacey, 70, of Harvey, Ill., has asked the police of this city to help him find Anna Thode, 40 years his junior, who he alleges took $400 of his money and disappeared. Lacey says that the two went to St. Joseph, Mich., to be married, and that he left his fiancée at the hotel, handing over to her the money for safe keeping, while he went in search of a minister. When he returned, he alleges, Miss Thode had gone.

Dies In Prison Cell.

Dayton, O., March 31.—No one responded to the name of William Adams when Prosecutor Pholman called out the case of the state against him in the police court, and an immediate investigation of his absence was made by the clerk. Returning from the courtroom the clerk announced that Adams had died just a few minutes before his case was called.

THE MEAT OF IT.

William O'Brien, Irish Nationalist leader, has resigned his seat in parliament.

Despondent over ill health, J. W. Schaub, civil engineer of Baltimore, Md., ended his life on a Michigan Central train as it pulled into Lawton, Mich.

Philip Rising, 84, banker of Lancaster, O., is dead.

Because he wrote a note to a white woman, George Reddin, colored, was lynched by a Waco (Tex.) mob.

Fred Lied, former Columbus (O.) official, convicted of accepting bribes, having been refused new trial by supreme court, has given himself up and will serve his four-year term in the penitentiary.

Rev. Charles W. Dane of Waterbury, Conn., has eloped with Mrs. G. N. Proctor, wife of a prominent merchant of that city.

Jan Pouren, the Russian fugitive who has been held in the Tombs prison at New York for six months, has been discharged by order of United States Commissioner Hitchcock.

Husband Owns Wife's Dresses.

The question of who owns the dresses of a wife came up in the Brompton county court of Maryland recently and the judge decided that the husband is the owner. The man held that he had given the wife the money to buy the dresses in dispute, and, although they were not paid for, it was decided that they belonged to him.

Lithographic Stone Quarry.

Stones which are used by the lithographers all over the world in making colored pictures are found in a little district not more than four or five miles long by two or three broad near Nuremberg, in Germany. Quarrying has gone on there for more than a century.

When the Sea Flows into the Seine. A strange phenomenon takes place at Little Caudebec twice a year. The sea, announced by a thundering sound and an undulating swell that comes along the river's face, comes up from the channel and flows into the Seine. Tranquil and hitherto unruffled, the river receives this violent visitor in one undulous wave that rushes like a tide along the surface of the water.—Harper's Monthly Magazine.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS IN EUROPE.

1559, to print, in France, without special authority from the king, was punishable by death. It was not until 1881 that the law recognized the liberty of the press and of book selling. Liberty of the press was secured to Austria-Hungary in the constitution of 1867. In both Germany and Italy, what is called this "liberty of the press" began in 1848. Belgium was a European pioneer. Her constitution of 1831 declared her press free.

Easter Decorations.

As Easter draws near, the minds of the men as well as those of the women turn towards the beautiful things to wear. Already many of the merchants are dressing their windows and the city is preparing for a gala day.

M. Coid, Smith and Phillips has an especially attractive window. The background is a lattice work of southern smilax and here and there purple wisteria hangs from the smilax. Many up-to-date and beautiful styles of Easter footwear add charm to the artistic decoration.

Baldwin Bros. have just gotten their store improved and papered, and many exquisite things in jewelry are to be seen there. Phillips' Drug Store is about completed, and will be one of the most up-to-date in the city. Others are beginning to decorate their windows, and next week the city will be beautiful in her new dress.

Hands Are Caught in Frame When He Leans Forward and Both Are Injured.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., March 31.—Mr. N. V. Hall, an employee of the Maysville Telephone Company, while reclining in a folding chair at his home, thoughtlessly leaned forward with both hands on the frame and they were caught in the frame. Two fingers on the right hand were broken and several others badly mashed on the left. As a result he now has both hands in bandages.

He gives us our policies, our religion, all, in short, that we have.—London Vally Dispatch.

INSTANT RELIEF FROM ITCH.

The Itch Gone, the Skin Soothed and Refreshed—Immediately.

Instant Relief from that itch. A few drops of a soothing liquid—And the itch is gone as if by magic.

Just a drop or two on the skin and no more of that torturing, endless, nerve-racking itch.

Can you imagine how it will feel—that itching agony swept away in a moment?

You can know the relief if you just try the simple remedy—simplest of external liquid remedies—oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

We positively know that it alleviates the itch immediately—we vouch for this and guarantee it—for we have seen it used in too many cases, and the cures that follow, as far as we know, seem to be permanent.

The Japanese Baby.

The first name is given to him with great ceremony when he is a month old, at 15 he is considered grown up, assumes the responsibility of a man and takes a new name. Entering upon public duties he takes another name, which is changed with every step in life; if his superior officer has the same name he happens to have at that time he must change it again; he must also change it when he marries, and when he dies it is changed for the last time and inscribed upon his tomb.—Home Notes.

A Modern Instance.

The higher education is not wholly in vain. Here is a student of the University of Pennsylvania who has so wisely communed with the great spirits of old that he is able to train a ten-dollar monkey to serve him as a valet, even to the blacking of the disciple's boots. They say no man is a hero to his valet. Wonder what this particular monkey thinks of his master?

Action of the Magnetic Needle.

The magnetic needle comes to rest pointing north and south because the earth acts as if it were a great magnet. A compass needle would come to rest pointing lengthwise of a bar magnet placed under the compass needle, just as it does under the influence of the earth. For this reason we think of the earth as a great magnet. The north pole and the north star have no influence over the compass needle.

Tom Reed's Insinuation.

Once when Thomas B. Reed was with the late Senator Wolcott of Colorado and Joseph Chaote, Mr. Chaote, when asked to take a drink, said he never drank, never smoked to excess, and never gambled in his life. Wolcott, who was a sinner in every one of these lines, looked pathetically at Reed and said: "I wish I could say that." "Say it," said Reed; "Chaote did."

The Law of Speculation.

HER INFINITE VARIETY

"We have been having a taste of lobbying, Miss Greene," she began "and—"

"How unpleasant!" said she. "You know, possibly," said Mrs. Overman Hodge-Lathrop, regaining something of her position.

"Indeed I do," Miss Green assented, sweetly, "but where it is in the line of one's profession, duty obscures the unpleasantness. One cannot, you know, always choose one's occupation. Good morning!"

And catching her skirts, with a smile and a bow she left.

The successful lobbyists stood in silence a moment, looked one to another with wide and staring eyes. Then at last Mrs. Overman Hodge-Lathrop spoke.

"Morley," she said, "I do wish you could learn to discriminate in your introductions."

CHAPTER XV.

Just before dinner Amelia and Vernon sat in the little waiting room of the hotel. Mrs. Overman Hodge-Lathrop and her ladies had gone up to the suite they had taken and were engaged in repairing the toilets their political labors of the morning had somewhat damaged. Amelia had completed her toilet more quickly than they and had joined Vernon, waiting for her below.

They sat in the dim little room where Amelia could look across the corridor to the elevator, expecting every moment the coming of Mrs. Overman Hodge-Lathrop. Now that they found themselves alone and face to face with the necessity of reconciliation, a constraint had fallen on them. Amelia constantly kept her eye on the elevator. Men were passing and repassing the open door, going to or coming from the bar-room, and their loud talk and laughter beat in waves into the dim little retreat of the lovers.

As Vernon sat there he imagined that all that talk was of him; more than all, that all that laughter was at him—though there was no more of either than there was every day when the legislators came over to the hotel for their big noon dinners. At last Amelia turned to him.

"You've got the blues, haven't you?" she said. It would seem that somehow he did her an injustice by having the blues.

"No," he answered. "Then what's the matter?" she demanded.

Vernon glanced at her, and his glance carried its own reproach. "Oh!" she said, as if suddenly recalling a trivial incident. "Still worrying about that?"

"Well," Vernon answered, "it has some seriousness for me."

Amelia, sitting properly erect, her hands folded in her lap, twisted about and faced him.

"You don't mean, Morley, that you are sorry it didn't pass, do you?" "It puts me in rather an awkward position," he said. "I suppose you know that."

"I don't see how," Amelia replied. "Well," Vernon explained, "to stand for a measure of that importance, and then at the final, critical moment, to fail—"

"Oh, I see!" said Amelia, moving away from him on the couch. "Of course, if you regret the time, if you'd rather have been over in the senate than to have been with me—why, of course!" She gave a little deprecating laugh.

Vernon leaned impulsively toward her.

"But, dear," he said, "you don't understand!"

"And after your begging me to come down to Springfield, to see you!" Amelia said. Her eyes were fixed on the elevator, and just at that moment the car came rushing down the shaft and swished itself to a stop just when it seemed, it should have shattered itself to pieces at the bottom. The elevator boy changed the iron door back, and Maria Greene stepped out.

"There she is now!" said Amelia, raising her head to see. Miss Greene paused a moment to reply to the greeting of some one of the politicians who stopped to speak to her. Amelia's nose was elevated.

"And so that's the wonderful hair you all admire so much, is it?" she said.

"Well," replied Vernon, almost defiantly, "don't you think it is rather exceptional hair?"

Amelia turned on him with a look of superior and pitying penetration. "Does that shade deceive you?" she asked. She smiled disconcertingly, as she looked away again. At Maria Greene. That woman lawyer was just leaving the politicians.

"And to think of wearing that hat with that hair!" Amelia went on. "Though of course," she added, with deep meaning, "it may originally have been the right shade; the poor hat can't be expected to change its color."

Vernon had no answer for her.

"I wonder what explanation she'll have for her defeat?" said Amelia in a tone that could not conceal its spirit of triumph.

"I'm not worried about that," said Vernon. "I'm more concerned about the explanation I'll have."

"Dearest!" exclaimed Amelia, swiftly laying her hand on his. Her tone had changed, and as she leaned toward him with the new tenderness that her new manner exhaled, Vernon felt a change within himself, and his heart swelled.

"Dearest," she said, in a voice that hesitated before the idea of some necessary reparation, "are you really so badly disappointed?"

He looked at her, then suddenly he drew her into his arms, and she let her head rest for an instant on his shoulder; but only for an instant. Then she exclaimed and was erect and all propriety.

"You forget where we are, dear," she said.

"I don't care about that," he replied, and then, glancing swiftly about in all directions, he kissed her.

"Morley!" she cried, and her cheeks were red, a new and happy red.

They sat there, looking at each other.

"You didn't consider, you didn't really consider her pretty, did you?" Amelia asked.

"Why, Amelia, what a question!" "But you didn't? Don't evade, Morley."

"Oh, well, now, she's not bad looking, exactly, but as for beauty—well, she's rather what I'd call handsome."

"Handsome!" Amelia exclaimed, drawing back.

"Why, yes. Don't you see, dear?" Vernon was trying to laugh. "Can't you see the distinction? We call men handsome, don't we? Not pretty, or anything like that. But women! Ah, women! Them we call, now and then, beautiful! And you, darling, you are beautiful!"

They were face to face again, both smiling radiantly. Then Amelia drew away, saying:

"Morley, don't be ridiculous."

"But I'm dead in earnest, dear," he went on. "And I think you ought to make some sort of amends for all the misery you've caused me."

"You poor boy!" she said, with the pity that is part of a woman's triumph.

"I did it," he said, "just because I love you, and have learned in you what women are capable of, what they might do in politics—"

"In politics! Morley! Can you imagine me in politics? I thought you had a more exalted opinion of women; I thought you kept them on a higher plane."

"But you—" Vernon laughed, and shook his head at the mystery of it, but did not go on.

"Why, Morley, would you want to see your mother or your sister or me, or even Mrs. Hodge-Lathrop in politics?"

"Well," he said, with a sudden and serious emphasis, "not Mrs. Hodge-Lathrop exactly. She'd be chairman of the state central committee from the start, and, well—the machine would be a corker, that's all."

The elevator was rushing down again in its perilous descent, and when its door flew open they saw Mrs. Overman Hodge-Lathrop come out of the car. Vernon rose hastily.

"There she is," he said. "We mustn't keep her waiting."

Amelia rose, but she caught his hand and gave it a sudden pressure.

"But you haven't answered my question," she said, with a continuity of thought that was her final surprise for him. "Are you so very badly disappointed, after all?"

"Well, no," he said. "I don't think it would do. It would—well, it would complicate."

Mrs. Hodge-Lathrop was standing in the door, peering impatiently into the dim little room. They stared toward her.

"Anyway, dear heart," Amelia whispered as they went, "remember this—that you did it all for me!"

THE END.

Too! Precautions.

"You ran into this man at 30 miles an hour and knocked him 40 feet," said the court.

"That, or a little better, I suppose," answered the chauffeur.

"Why didn't you slow down?"

"Mere precaution, your honor. Once I shut off speed and hit a man so gently that he was able to climb into the machine and give me a licking."

RENEWAL OF FEUD IN PERRY COUNTY FEARED

Little Hope For Recovery of Henry Ingells Who Was Shot on the Streets.

JACKSON, Ky., March 31.—Telephone reports from Hazard, Perry county, indicate the probable renewal of an old feud on account of the assassination of Henry Ingells, Ingells was shot down on Main street in Hazard yesterday immediately after his arrival there from the penitentiary at Frankfort, where he had just completed serving a term in prison on account of a shooting scrape he had with M. C. Eversole, now Sheriff of Perry county.

The shooting of Ingells was done by some one in the store of D. Y. Combs and the local friends of Ingells insist that there is no doubt of Eversole's connection with it. Ingells was shot through the body with a heavy rifle and there is little hope of his recovery.

MODERN WOODMEN.

WILL MISREPRESENTATION PAY

Other Societies seeking favor in Winchester seem to think the only way to succeed is to misrepresent the Modern Woodmen of America, as well as to deceive as to the true merits of their own organizations. This is a serious mistake. Every organization has sufficient merit to attract without practicing either misrepresentation or deception; all are good and many are great; hence there is no real cause to do either. Nevertheless, certain parties are either ignorantly or wilfully misrepresenting the M. W. of A., the greatest of the great societies, to gain a temporary advantage. For one thing, they are saying the M. W. of A. has no surplus and can have none. This is false on its face.

The Modern Woodmen not only always has a large surplus, but its rates are all the way from 30 per cent to 80 per cent less than its three nearest competitors. Not only this, but it actually collects off each member each year over 50 per cent less than these competitors, and still has a large surplus left.

The fact is, the Modern Woodmen remits to its members every three years more millions than any one of its said competitors has accumulated in its entire lifetime and still has left on hand at the end of each year, a large surplus. This being absolutely true, what can they hope to gain by falsifying the record?

Unlike other Societies, the M. W. of A. is a co-operative institution and so when the money is not needed for absolute protection it is left in the pockets of its more than a million members for the use and benefit of their families, many of whom are, at times, in sore need. If the M. W. of A. can remit to its members annually from 1-4 to 1-3 of all it can collect from them at its much lower rate, and still have a large and safe surplus left, why should other societies object? Certainly their members never get any more benefits than an M. W. of A. member.

"I am entirely friendless," remarked the man of gloom. "Why, do you know, today I bowed to the inevitable, and it cut me!"

Spring

Clothes

for Men

By

Stein-Bloch

STEIN-BLOCH have distributed to the best clothiers their styles for Spring and Summer, 1909. Wherever in America you happen to live these styles are there for you to see.

They have not been "created"—no good styles are.

They are the product of a dozen capable minds that have observed the shaping of the season's fashions among the fashionables who really evolve them—some in New York, some in London, others in Boston and still others at the Virginia and Florida resorts.

Stein-Bloch have made the rounds for you and adapted the best of these dictates of the fashionables. As your clothes commissioners they can give you, at your own home and at moderate cost, the best that taste and wealth have produced for the season.

Bad as conditions are to-day, great progress has been made during the last 20 years. People are growing more careful as to what they eat and drink. There is no city that is not bestirring itself to improve its water supply and its system of sanitation. The demand for more fresh air is almost a fact in progressive communities.

Health.

All Meteors. "Shay," exclaimed the citizen who had been sitting up with a friend, gazing wonderingly at the heavens, "this must be a great night for 'stromomers. Never saw so many meteors in my life."—Kansas City Times.

Frivolous Person.

"A man about town, as near as I kin figger it out," remarked Uncle Goshall Hemlock, "is a fellow who wants to loaf around from pillar to post. Ain't satisfied to take up a place with the solid citizens every evening in the grocery."

Prevalence of English Language. Two-thirds of all the letters which pass through the post offices of the world are written in English.

No Heed Paid to Begging Letters.

As nearly as can be ascertained, the wealthy persons of New York city receive 35,000 begging letters a day from strangers, and the writers stand a better chance of finding money than in getting from them, for even the most liberal of philanthropists do not dispense their charity excepting according to careful plans and after investigation.

Too Much Gravity a Bad Sign.

There is a false gravity which is a very ill symptom; and it may be said that as rivers which run very slowly have always the most mud at the bottom, so a solid stiffness in the constant course of a man's life is a sign of a thick bed of mud at the bottom of his brain.—Saville.

The Tartar's Manners.

When a Tartar invites an honored guest to dine with him he will take the guest by the ear and lead him to the table.

A Cross-Eyed Hit.

"That handsome cross-eyed boy makes a great hit when he gives a recitation," whispered one whose eyes are straight. "He seems to be so impartial. They think he is looking at them all at one and the same time when the fact of the matter is that he can't look a single one of them straight in the face."

Thoughtful Child.

They are considerate youngsters in England, as most people know. A little boy whose grandmother had just died wrote the following letter, which he duly posted: "Dear Angela: We have sent you grandma. Please give her a harp to play, as she is short-winded and can't blow a trumpet."—London Tit-Bits.

EIGHT KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Dynamite Lets Go In Railroad Camp.

WAS BEING THAWED OUT

Men Were Engaged In Blowing Out Side of Large Hill on Norfolk & Western Right of Way Near Chillicothe, Ohio — Whole Countryside Aroused by Explosion—More Than a Score Seriously Injured — Two Victims Unidentified.

Chillicothe, O., March 31. — Eight men were killed and 20 or more seriously injured when 400 pounds of dynamite exploded at a Norfolk & Western construction camp near this city. The dead are: Jonathan Floyd, Prude, O.; Joseph Hayes, Antonio, O.; Charles Buchanan, Columbus, conductor of the work train; Newton Mayo, colored, Chatham, Va.; Charles Williams, colored, Martinsville, Va.; Joseph Miller, colored, Salem, N. C. Two other colored men were killed, but their bodies were so scattered by the explosion, that they had to be gathered up with a rake and were not identified.

At the point of the accident the railroad is constructing a double track and the men were engaged in blowing out the side of a large hill, dynamite being used. Four hundred pounds of dynamite were laid around a campfire to thaw out, and men were sitting around the fire. A few minutes before the explosion Foreman George Davis came to the fire and told the men to be careful of the dynamite, as it was capped and was liable to explode. The men after this warning began to spread out the dynamite. Davis had hardly reached a point 50 yards from the fire when the explosion occurred, and he was thrown 20 feet in the air.

The whole countryside was aroused by the explosion and came to the rescue. They found that out of the 30 men in the gang nearly every one had been killed or injured. A relief train rushed from this city to the scene of the accident with doctors and the injured were brought to the hospital in this city.

MINE IS THREATENED

Armed Americans Prepare to Resist Attack of Hungarians.

Jasonville, Ind., March 31.—Soundings of the distress whistle at the Bogle mine collected 200 armed men in Jasonville in response to the report that the Hungarians who were driven out had returned with dynamite to blow up the mine. The foreigners have cut the telephone wires between Jasonville and the mine.

Hungarians Accept Inevitable. Terre Haute, Ind., March 31.—The Hungarian miners employed at the Bogle colliery at Jasonville, who engaged in a battle with the American miners, in which 11 persons were wounded, have accepted the inevitable and scattered in different parts of the country. Many of them have gone to Adena, O.

Part of Crew Missing. Havana, March 31.—Fourteen members of the crew of the Hamburg-American steamer Altenburg, which was burned here, are missing, and it is feared they have perished. The Altenburg caught fire at the burning piers of the Havana Central railway.

MINERS ENTOMBED

Believed That Thirty-eight Mexicans Perished in Explosion.

Eagle Pass, Tex., March 31.—Thirty-eight Mexican miners are entombed in the coal mine at Minor, Mexico, operated by the Coalhulla Mining company, as the result of an explosion, caused from firedamp. Up to the present time none of the miners have been rescued, and it is probable all are dead.

Holds Killing Justifiable. Pine Bluff, Ark., March 30.—That John Day, master mechanic at the Clio plant of the Bluff City Lumber company, was justified in killing D. H. Duncan, capitalist and vice president of the lumber company, was held by Justice of the Peace Charles Roebuck, who ordered the release of Day from custody. Duncan was shot and killed while discussing matters in connection with the workings of the mill with Day, the latter asserting that the shooting was in self defense.

Insurance Losses Grow. Toledo, O., March 31.—The second partial report of Trustees Torgler and Marshall of the Ohio German Fire Insurance company show the losses of the company to be growing. The report discloses a total of $330,917.75 in unpaid loss claims and losses in the legal department to the amount of $22,415.77, making an aggregate of $403,333.52.

Ohio Farmer Killed. Fort Wayne, Ind., March 31.—Sherman Strook, a farmer living at Grover Hill, O., was killed by the explosion of a gas generator. His body was blown through a cement wall.

SILENCE THE WATCHWORD

Wade H. Ellis Announces Policy of Trust-Busting Department.

Chicago, March 31.—Wade H. Ellis, assistant to the attorney general of the United States, is here to confer with District Attorney Sims in regard to pending federal prosecutions, said that the government would go ahead with the prosecution of every indictment against the Standard Oil company.

"Judge Anderson's decision in the case against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana will have no bearing on the other cases," said he, "except as it may have established precedents to cover other cases that may come up." Mr. Ellis said that silence would be the watchword of the new administration's "trust-busting" efforts.

Bookwalter Comes to Ohio.

Columbus, O., March 31.—An announcement was made here that Alfred G. Bookwalter of Boston, Mass., educational secretary for the Y. M. C. A. state committees of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, had been chosen as secretary of the Ohio State Y. M. C. A. committee to succeed R. B. Lewis, who went to Cleveland today to succeed the late Glen Shurtliff as secretary of the Cleveland association.

Boys Seek Kidnapers.

New York, March 31.—Twenty thousand American boys, all members of a social and athletic organization known as the Sons of Daniel Boone, have enlisted in the task of running down the kidnapers of one of their number, Harold Moon, a member of the Flint Mich. chapter of the organization.

Wins Fourth Consecutive Game.

New York, March 31.—Ora C. Morningstar, formerly of Rochester, Ind., but now of New York, won his fourth consecutive game in the International 13.2 championship billiard tournament, defeating A. G. Cutler of Boston.

WOMAN PREVENTS DOUBLE LYNCHING

Pleads With Mob That Captured Alleged Highwaymen.

Chillicothe, Mo., March 31.—The intervention of Mrs. James Wood, wife of a farmer living south of Jamesport, prevented the lynching of the two men accused of shooting and mortally wounding Marshal Caraway at Jamesport. The men had been surrounded and wounded by a posse of farmers. A rope had been procured and the posse was about to hang the prisoners when Mrs. Wood interferred. She pleaded with the leader to permit the law to take its course. Her plea prevented the lynching. The wounded men were taken to the jail at Gallatin, Mo., the county seat of Daviess county.

Ranchman and Wife Murdered.

Allamore, Neb., March 31.—News reached here from Provo, S. D., just over the Nebraska line, of the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, ranchers near that place, by their son-in-law, Richard Barton, who killed them with an ax, after which the dispatch says, he mutilated the bodies. Barton was captured at Edgemont, S. D. Domestic trouble is supposed to have prompted the crime.

Why Not? Why may not a goose say thus: "All the parts of the universe I have an interest in: The earth serves me to walk upon, the sun to light me; the stars have their influence upon me; I have an advantage by the winds and such by the waters; there is nothing that you heavenly roof looks upon so favorably as me. I am the darling of Nature. Is it not man that keeps and serves me?"—Montaigne.

Woman—the Power.

Any publisher will tell you that it is the approval of the women of the country which makes the "big sellers;" that to be a paying business investment the magazine must cater to the women. It is the women of the country who read. The men read the newspapers and the articles in the magazines which their wives recommend to them.—Appleton's.

The Difference.

"It's funny what a difference it makes," said the woman, "whether we are eating dinner with the man in the little blue kitchen, or at a table d'hôte. If he feeds his ear with his spoon in the little blue kitchen we go into fits, but look at him now! Eating his spaghetti with his bread stick and wiping his fingers on the table cloth and I don't care at all. Do you?"

Sam Noticed the Distinction.

A rich man once visited his stable and watched an old groom currying a favorite horse. "You have worked for me a long time, haven't you, Sam?" queried the rich man. "Yes, sir," replied the groom. "Me an' this hoss have worked for you 17 years." "Ah, and I hope you have been well treated, Sam," said the employer. "Oh, I ain't complainin' none," said Sam. "But me an' th' hoss was sick at th' same time, an' I noticed that while you hired a doctor for th' hoss you doctored my pay for th' time I lost."

PROMINENT MEN ARE PARTIES TO LAWSUIT

Winchester Lawyer Attorney in Sensational Damage Suit Filed in Paris.

PARIS, Ky., March 31.—A suit for damages in the sum of $50,000 was filed here late yesterday afternoon in the Bourbon Circuit Court by James McClure, cashier of the First National Bank, against James D. McClintock, a prominent insurance man and director in the Agricultural Bank, for alleged slander.

The American Bonding Company, of Baltimore, Md., is made a co-defendant. The petition states that before the complaints were made the plaintiff was appointed trustee for Sara Louise Whitehead and statutory guardian for Frankie Thompson, an infant, and that in both fiduciary capacities the co-defendant bonding company was surety on the plaintiff's bond and on his bond as surety as cashier of the First National Bank, upon the solicitation of the said defendant, who was the local representative of the said bonding company.

Conspiracy is Charged.

The plaintiff further avers in his petition that he formed a partnership with Roy F. Glendenn, a brother-in-law of the said defendant, and engaged in the insurance business, and that said partnership and said business, being the same as that in which the defendant was engaged, aroused his ill will and malice and caused the said defendant and his co-defendants to maliciously and wrongfully conspire together and among themselves to injure said plaintiff in his occupation, employment and business, and, especially, in his fiduciary capacity as hereinabove set out, and to ruin, and humiliate said plaintiff and deprive him of his position as cashier, guardian and trustee by cancelling or causing to be cancelled without just cause or excuse the said cashier bond, and by withholding from the plaintiff and from the directors of said bank the knowledge and information of said withdrawal.

The petition, which was filed by Attorney James Wynn, of Winchester, and E. M. Dickson and McMillan & Talbot, of Paris, further prays for the recovery of costs in the case and all proper relief.

Parties Are Prominent.

The plaintiff and defendant are two of the most successful business men in Paris, the former having served as Sheriff of the county, and in many capacities of honor and trust, as well as being prominent socially and in church circles, while the latter has for many years been prominent socially, as a banker and as a member of the Presbyterian church.

YOU MAY NOT NEED COAL

on Easter and then again you may. At any rate it will be well for you to have a good supply in your cellar. Besides Easter is about the cheapest time in the year in which to buy coal, and as it doesn't spoil you might as well make the saving any way. Think it over.

OCTOGENARIAN KILLS HIS WIFE

Joseph Gabner Cuts Aged Woman's Throat With a Razor Today.

Special to The News.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 31.—Joseph Gabner, aged 79, fatally assaulted his wife, aged 77, and then slashed his own windpipe with a razor. Both will die.

Both young and old will enjoy the lecture at the opera house Wednesday night, March 31st. Tickets on sale Monday, at the Martin-Cook drug store. 2-27-tf.

Whole Race Condemned.

A native of Annam, Indo-China, sentenced in Paris for theft, wrote the following apology to his employer: "All Annamites, whether emperors, mandarins, secretaries, literary men, and others, are thieves. It is a grave and deadly complaint, and there is no cure for it. I know people do not like thieves in France, but it cannot be helped."

The Highest Authorities.

A Kentucky physician, after extensive experiments, has written a paper to show that whisky aggravates the venom of snake bites. This is testimony from a high source and leaves little to be done except to appeal the case to the supreme experts in North Carolina.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Reasonable.

Two Irishmen one day went shooting. A large flock of pigeons came flying over their heads. Pater elevated his piece and, firing, brought one of them to the ground. "Arrah!" exclaimed his companion, "what a fool you are to waste your ammunition, when the hare fall would have killed him!"—Pick-Me-Up.

Art.

Now nature is not at variance with art, nor art with nature; they being both the servants of his providence. Art is the perfection of nature. Were the world now as it was the sixth day, there were yet a chaos. Nature hath made one world and art another. In brief, all things are artificial; for nature is the art of God.—Sir Thomas Browne.

A Woman's Word.

In a case at Southwark, his honor Judge Willis remarked: "I believe in accepting a woman's word—except, perhaps, in some instances connected with dress."—London Standard.

HORSE AND MULE SALE HELD AT MT. STERLING

Good Prices Realized and Five Hundred People Was in Attendance.

MT. STERLING, Ky., March 31.—At the public sale held here this week by Peed and Letters and Greenwade Company, 78 head of horses and mules were sold at prices ranging from $60 to $220 per head. The entire sale amounted to $9,620, an average price per head of about $123.15.

About 500 people attended the sale, the largest crowd here to attend a horse sale in years, and bidding was spirited especially so on the mules, which brought good prices. Very few animals were rejected and the sale was a success. The highest priced horse brought $215 and the highest priced mule, $220. George D. Speaks, of Paris, was the auctioneer, and W. Hoffman Wood, Clerk.

Gas Stove Explodes.

The gas stove in the kitchen at the home of Harry S. Bittinger exploded without warning, blowing a stove door through a door panel. Mr. Bittinger had just passed through the door when the explosion occurred and escaped injury. The damage was slight.

Feasted Two Days and Nights.

Commander Peary and his party, returning famished from their futile dash for the pole in 1906, slaughtered a herd of seven musk oxen on Hazen Island, off the extreme north of Greenland. For two days and nights thereafter they crouched inside their snow huts, eating continuously, and when they had finished, the pile of bones outside was "as high as a tall man's chin."

Outgrowing Things.

Yes, we outgrow everything—toys, little pink or blue dresses, friendships, loves, and ideals, and it is well that we do, says a writer in Home Notes. We may occasionally regret some one of them; but if they were always ours how monotonous life would be—it hardly would be worth the living, you know.

Why She Declined.

"Really," said the stylish lady, enthusiastically, to her friend, "it is worth while to see the wonderful display of rhododendrons." "Is it?" replied her friend, languidly: "I like to look at the great big clumsy beasts, too; but it always smells so unpleasantly around the cages."—London News.

WINCHESTER SAVING AND BUILDING ASSOCIATION

New Class Is to Start the First Saturday in May.

At a regular meeting of the Winchester Building and Saving Association, held March 31, 1909, it was unanimously decided to start a new class to be designated class "M," to begin the first Saturday in May, next. The officers of the association, including the directors, are authorized to receive subscriptions for stock.

This association has been doing business for twenty-three years and nine months, and has never lost a dollar. Its economical and conservative management guarantees safe investment to stockholders, and affords the accumulation of money by easy weekly payments. Many homes have been built and paid for through the association. Any officer of the association will cheerfully explain the plan. J. M. STEVENSON, President.

H. W. SCRIVENER, Secretary.

LOOK OUT FOR THE PRETENDED OLD SOLDIERS

Deadbeat Tries to Pass Himself Off as a Union Veteran.

A deadbeat drifted into town the early part of the week. He claimed to be an ex-Federal soldier and wore a Grand Army button. The first man he struck was Postmaster Perry, who is an ex-Federal soldier. Perry turned him down. Next was J. E. Wood, the commander of the local G. A. R. post; Wood did likewise. The next was Mayor Hughes. The Mayor kindly directed him to the road to Mount Sterling, also to County Judge Evans, when the D. B. said "To hell with the County Judge."

D. B. Is Gone.

In this connection we want to give a word of warning. Never, never help a man who claims to have been a Union soldier in the Civil War. If he was a real soldier the government provides for him; if he was not, he is a fraud.

MRS. BOYLE'S BAIL $25,000

Alleged Abductor Waives Examination and Is Held to the Grand Jury.

MERCER, Pa., March 31.—Mrs. James Boyle was arraigned here today before Justice of the Peace McClain, waived hearing and was held to the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $25,000.

Chance for a Bandmaster.

Conway, which is in need of a bandmaster, has issued the following advertisement: "He must be a cornet player, and between performances he will be required to act as a range minder, inspector of hawkers, boats and carriages, storekeeper and much other duties as the town clerk may from time to time direct."—Western Mail.

Abuse.

Of satires I think as Epictetus did: "If evil be said of thee, and if it be true, correct thyself; if it be a lie, laugh at it." By dint of time and experience I have learned to be a good post-horse; I go through my appointed daily stage, and I care not for the curs who bark at me along the road.—Friedrich the Great.

All Men Subject to Error.

A man must have a great deal of vanity who believes, and a good deal of boldness who affirms, that all the doctrines he holds are true, and all he rejects are false.—Benjamin Franklin.

An Emergency Exit.

"Miss Crichton pluckily extinguished the blaze, while Herr Eckhold pulled the orchestra through a difficult passage."—London Daily Express.

Charity and Love.

Without dew and light flowers fade. Charity and love are the dew and light of the human heart.—Mme. de Genlis.

Don't miss the lecture at the opera house Wednesday night, March 31st. Tickets on sale at Martin-Cook's drug store, Monday. 3-27-tf.

MURDERED BY NATIVES

Of Philippines Is Dr. William Jones, of Field Museum, Chicago.

Special to The News. MANILA, March 31.—Dr. William Jones, the noted anthropologist of the Field Museum of Chicago, has been murdered by natives at Dumabato, Isabela province.

MACHINIST ENDS LIFE BY SWALLOWING POISON

Found Dead in His Office in Paris—Once Engineer on the L. & N.

PARIS, Ky., March 31.—Frank Grass, a machinist, aged about 50 years, committed suicide here yesterday by taking poison. Grass was found dead in his office on Main street in the Elks' building shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, having been dead for several hours. He was seen in his place of business shortly before breakfast sitting in a chair with his head in his hands as if in great distress. He was formerly an engineer on the L. & N. road.

How Lapp Collects Reindeer.

In April, the Lapp lets his reindeer loose to wander as they please, and when the mosquitoes begin to abound (about midsummer) collects his herd simply by catching one deer, fitting it with a bell and trusting to instinct (which leads the animals to gather into herds for protection against the mosquitoes) to do the rest. In a cool summer, when mosquitoes are few, this instinct does not come into play, and it is almost impossible to bring the reindeer together.

Modest Modern Man.

Whatever may be said of the modern man, he cannot be said to be lacking in modesty. While the ancients did their utmost to prove that they issued from the gods, we do our best to demonstrate that we have descended from monkeys.—London Daily Mail.
